

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation. sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. When large companies control the airwaves, we get more of what's good for the bottom line - not what is good for our country. Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules and license renewal processes. Thank you, Jeanette LeTourneux
